Pol Tarres reached a 6,677m altitude with Mitas tires

Pol Tarres makes history once again! Only two years after setting an altitude world record aboard his Yamaha Ténéré, Tarres returned to Chile again. This time, his goal was to set a new altitude record. Pol reached an incredible 6,677 meters on his Yamaha Ténéré, setting a new record for the highest altitude ever reached on a twin-cylinder motorcycle! His tires of choice for this expedition were Mitas TERRA FORCE-EX XT Super Light (former XT-754) rear and TERRA FORCE-EF Super front.

Isak Gifting won first race of Italian MX Championship Prestige

Mitas racers at 2024 Dakar Rally

The 46th edition of the Dakar Rally was by far the toughest since the great race arrived in Saudi Arabia. By all means, one to remember due to the challenging route.

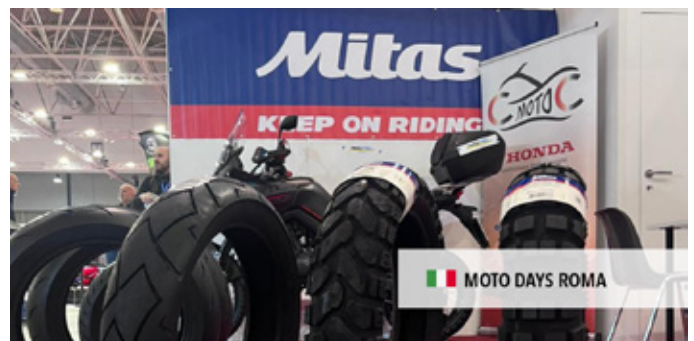

Mitas had two riders at the start line. Only Libor Podmol tackled all the problems he encountered along the way; he finished the race in 8th place in the Original by Motul category and 53rd place overall.

Unfortunately, Simon Marčić had many technical issues with the motorcycle and could not finish the race.
